London, April 1.—"It's in" in India means honor, prestige, and something more than both these English words.

In the east rivalry between the pretensions of the aristocracies of trade and business more violent sympathies are in the west, and on Malabar Hill in Bombay at dusk on Jan. 12 last Meena Begum, ignorant, rather honest, bearded, saucy girl, received an ugly scalp wound in her scalp.

The wounded girl, who was the victim in a game of "It's in" between one of India's greatest rulers and one of its wealthiest captains of industry.

A Mother of Honor.

India in India who knows the inside of this most extraordinary murder of the century suggests that you are not motivated.

Two Indian rajahs, warlords, struggle for the ball, but it is not the "It's in" but the "It's out."

The Alcalde of the Maharajah of Baroda, Grand Knight of the Order of the Star, Most Eminent Order of the Star, Knight Grand Commandant of the Most Eminent Order of the Star, failed to hold the ball.

STANDARD OIL
BUYS DOHENY'S
PAN-AMERICAN

Controlling Stock Valued at $38,000,000.

New York, April 1.—[Special.]—Control of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company passed to the Standard Oil company of Indiana, Blair and Company, Inc., The Chase Securities corporation, and others. Edward L. Doheny, the pioneer of the Mexican oil interests and the controlling spirit in back of the Pan-American organization, signed a contract in his office for the sale of his 50,000 shares of the voting stock of the company.

The company which Mr. Doheny received for control of the company was made public, but, based upon prices in the open market today, the stock turned over is valued at approximately $38,000,000.

Deal Sets Record.

The deal, which is equivalent to a merger of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, exclusive of Standard Oil of Indiana, is the largest consolidation in the history of the industry. It brings together three companies with combined assets valued at about $58,000,000 and whose securities are valued in the market at $75,000,000.

The consolidation gives the Standard Oil Company of Indiana an important position not only in the oil industry in this country, but also in foreign markets. It acquires control not only of the Mexican properties of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, its pipe lines and refineries, but also its tanker fleet, consisting of thirty-five vessels with an aggregate deadweight of 272,500 tons and capable of transporting 1,800,000 barrels of crude oil. This tanker fleet is second in size to that of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

No New Financing.

A group of individuals representing the Standard of Indiana and the bankers will comprise the officers and directors of the new Pan-American Eastern corporation. The directors of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, its pipe lines and refineries, and the managing company has been recommended so as to include representatives of the new banking interests, but many of the executives of the Pan-American organization will continue to act for the new management and Herbert G. Wyse, president of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, under the Doheny regime, will continue to act as president of the new company.

Edgar L. Doheny, chairman of the Indiana company, will also act as chairman of the board of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company.

Edward L. Doheny has resigned from the board of directors of the Pan-American organization, which he built up. Doheny, however, issued a statement in which he said that while resigning as chairman, he and his family will continue as large stockholders of the company, and, next to the Pan-American Eastern Petroleum company, Mr. Doheny and his family will continue to hold more stock in the company than any other group.

Mr. Doheny, however, will serve as a member of the board of directors of the Pan-American Petroleum company, which will take over the California operation of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company.

BILL FOR STATE DRY CHIEF GETS COMMITTEE O. K.

Approved in Both Houses;
Wets to Fight It.

Springfield, Ill., April 1.—[Special]—By a vote of 21 to 9 the house judiciary committee today recommended passage of the Anti-Saloon League's bill creating the office of state prohibition commissioner to be filled by appointment of the attorney general. The senate judiciary committee made a similar recommendation on a viva voce vote.

Under terms of the act the commissioner would have full power in enforcing all the state's dry laws, including the issuance of liquor withdrawal permits. The commissioner, who would receive a salary of $4,000 a year, would appoint his own force, including a chief deputy at $4,000, two other deputies at $3,600 each, and twenty-five agents at $2 per day while on duty.

Switch Appointive Power.

The appointive power was transferred from the governor to the attorney general when the league encountered opposition among its followers to giving this additional patronage to Gov. Small.

Wet leaders fought the bill in committee and are preparing for a bitter fight against it on the floor of the two houses.

While the judiciary committees were favoring more stringent dry laws, the house committees on license and miscellany took a step in the other direction and recommended passage of the Cola bill permitting home wine making. This same committee earlier approved the Weber-O'Grady bill to repeal all the state's dry laws.

Drys Back Ouster Bill.

Another Anti-Saloon league measure put in its appearance today when Senator Cuthbertson (D., Massapequa) introduced a bill permitting ousted proceedings against county officials. Action could be started by the attorney general, state's attorney, or five citizens. The bill is aimed at officials who fail to satisfy the drys in enforcement of prohibition.

DAY IN SPRINGFIELD

Both houses accepted invitations of Chicago drainage board to inspect drainage treatment plants Monday, April 12.

Committees of both house recommended anti-saloon leagues prohibition commissioner bill.

Joint committee session heard Lundin speakers urge old Thompson transportation district bill without action.

Senate.

Dunlap state police bill reported out of military affairs committee without recommendation and Barr substituted bill recommended by roads committee.

Cuthbertson gas tax bill reported out of committee with understanding that it will be held before further action.

Referrals may roll publication bill to appropriations committee.

Judiciary committee, by vote of 21 to 9, recommended passage of bill to Springfield today to deliver some of its own speeches against the Dever traction ordinance.

Appropriations committee approved $400,000 for bridge over Illinois river.

Other committees recommended bills for increase in tax for Chicago municipal tuberculosis sanitarians and public library of one-half mill and one-fifth mill, respectively.

Bills introduced.—By Cuthbertson, to authorize removal of county and municipal officers for misfeasance or malfeasance in office by providing in permanent court; by Dever, to place permanent correspondence schools under jurisdiction of state; by Haenke, to authorize licensing of osteopaths and other medical and non-surgical practitioners; by Jewell, provide that juries shall be judges of facts, and not of law also, as present; by Miller, appropriate $30,000 to eradicate foul broods in bees by Mitchell; appropriate $50,000 by state hospital railroad car for disaster relief work.

Joint session of senate and house public utilities committee was set aside to hear arguments for the old Lundin Thompson traction measure, however, most of the time was spent in lambasting the Dever ordinance all over the legislative lot. It was a ward meeting in opposition to the Dever plan transferred to the capital.

Lineup is Familiar.

The meeting was all one-sided, and anti-saloon leaders were the only ones who were erstwhile associates of ex-Mayor William Hale Thompson during his city hall régime, they also stayed with Fred Lundin when he split with Mr. Thompson and are now engaged in turning out propaganda for the Lundin camp.

Here is the list:

Miss Melody is Miss Lupus and Senator Marie who introduced the Lundin bill; Chester E. Cleveland, former assistant corporation counsel; Daniel A. Roberts, attorney for the west park board; Superior Judge Harry B. Miller, former city prosecutor; Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the west park board and former health commissioner.

ent. If approved, Miss Melody will be the first woman principal of a high school in Chicago having boy and girl attendees.

Miss Melody was educated in the public schools here and graduated from the University of Chicago. She holds the degree of bachelor and master of philosophy, and is also a graduate of Kent College of Law. She is 52 years old and has been in the school system for thirty years.

LUNDIN CAR PLAN, IT SEEMS, IS TO LARRUP DEVER'S

It's Presented All Day at Springfield Hearing.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Springfield, Ill., April 1.—[Special]—

Bill advancing the transportation district bill, which will admit 10 additional bond bills, submitted by presidential electors from ballot; bill requiring elevated lines to install heating plants at transfer stations; the bovine tuberculin test bill; $30,000 appropriation for agricultural experiment station in Cook county; authorizes 3-10 of mill tax for zoological park in forest preserve for five years if approved by referendum.

Referrals may roll publication bill to appropriations committee.

Municipal Judge Edgar A. Johns, David H. Johnson, Lundin's personal attorney, and William F. Mulvihill, former attaché of the corporation counsel's office.

Among the Spectators.

The party also included Charles R. Francis, former commissioner of public school board attorney, and Judge William L. Morgan.

The transportation district bill is the same measure that was defeated in the senate in 1921, when Lundin and Thompson were in power. It provides for an election on petition of 5,000 voters on the question of forming a district to take over the transportation systems of Chicago and suburbs.

The district would be governed by nine trustees elected for six years on a nonpartisan ballot. The bill would fix their salaries, providing they did not fix their pay at more than that of circuit judges. They could take over all or any part of any of the transportation lines or construct new ones. Bonds up to 5 per cent of the total assessed value of the district could be issued, in addition to a general tax levied of $1.

The 5 Cent Fare Provision.

The bill prescribes a 5 cent fare to be increased only on a vote of the people, if a 5 cent fare failed to pay expenses, but failure of the voters to approve a higher fare would leave the trustees with power to levy property taxes to make up deficits.

"None of the powers of the district shall be exercised by any person or by any other governmental agency now or hereafter existing," reads one section of the bill. Some of Chicago's old political scraps were haulled out for airing when Representative Gibson, a Brundage Republican, and Representative Noonan, an organization Democrat, cut in to question the speakers.

Eight Firemen Are Hurt in $100,000 Paint Blaze

Damage of more than $100,000 was caused yesterday by a fire in the Fillmore paint shop, 3630 West Roosevelt road, in which eight firemen were slightly hurt. They were treated at west side hospitals. The fire, started by a small explosion in a storage of paint, was spectacular through a series of huge blasts, which attracted thousands and endangered the work of the fire fighters.

WHAT YOU GET UNDER THE DEVER PLAN.

Wednesday's Tribune was printed a map showing how the Dever plan would help the Ninth ward. It is a transportation ordinance and the test of it is what it will give in transportation. The people of the Ninth ward by looking at the map will see that the Dever plan would give them a better line, an elevated line in South Park avenue from 55th street to 95th, over to Wentworth avenue, and south to 120th street. It would give them, to be laid now, a surface line in 1924 street from Stony Island avenue to Cottage Grove avenue. It would give them, to be laid now, a surface car line in 55th street to Halsted street and south to 119th street.

To be built after five years would be an elevated connection between the Wentworth avenue elevated and Halsted street, and surface line extensions in 134th street and 135th street. That is getting down to brass tacks for this ward in the Calumet region. The extensions of elevated and surface lines to be made now mean new transportation, much of it rapid transportation. Now means as soon as the people have adopted the ordinance and as soon as it has gone to a test in the Supreme court.

The new transportation means development in the ward, more homes, stores, buildings, and theaters. Here as everywhere else in the city it means a boom on the sound basis of transportation. That means more wealth in this ward as in every other one, if the ordinance is adopted, more employment, and more comfort in living.

Today The Tribune prints another map showing what extensions will be made in the Thirty-seventh ward (Austin). That is getting down to the brass tacks in this region. Mayor Dever and the proponents of the ordinance are not dealing in hot air, doctrines, and theories. They are offering improvements and benefits to the people if the people can see the wise course and adopt the ordinance.

Every day from now until the election The Tribune will print maps showing what the ordinance intends to give the people of the different parts of Chicago which have been held back because of lack of transportation. If the people of the regions will look at the maps and then turn to the statements of the opposition they will examine the latter in vain for any suggestion of benefit.

If the vote goes with the opposition it is a vote for no improvements. It is a vote for worse than nothing because within two years, the city failing to act under this plan, the surface car lines will be in a federal receivership and they will be operated by the receivership for the benefit of the creditors. There will be no improvements under that and all the tom-tomers will not be able to stave it off.

It will come as certainly as the blackbird comes back in the spring. The citizen can take his needs to the opposition and see what it will give him on them.

WHISKERS AND EMPIRE.

Arthur Ponsonby makes a plea for bushy whiskers. He is an English laborer of a titled family. The titled families are for keeping up the stamna of the boys of the bulldog breed, and Mr. Ponsonby thinks they need whiskers. His thesis is that the extremity of man causes a compensation in the masculinity of women.

He says that when men were bushy bearded, women wore metal cages (the crinoline), had vapors, and fainted on the antinomianism in the living room. The male pulled his whiskers through his fingers and walked a mile out of his way after a glimpse of an ankle. The whiskered Georgian did not need stimulus. He needed restraints. The pre-Victorian and Victorian lady hooked the father of her children by blushing, covering herself with a halo of goods, and passing out if some one said links were legs.

The Georgian and Victorian beaux were bear cubs. It is true that there is some femininity in man and some masculinity in woman, it may be that there are compensations; that as the man becomes more feminine the woman becomes more masculine. Assuming that this is true and assuming that since the war, although why since the war we could not say, the man is more feminine, that might account for the boyish looks, the bare knees, the cigarette smoking and gin drinking, and other things which are regarded as invasions of the man's world.

What we call masculine men may produce feminine women and the other way about, but Mr. Ponsonby has a job on his hands if he tries to make out a case for whiskers. There may have been whiskered types of men when the ladies swooned in the presence of the lords of creation, but the smooth face has the better of the argument.

The American Indian had no whiskers, but the Indians won out in the wood, raised the grain, and did the chores. It there ever was a masculine world it was the whiskerless world of the American Indian. The Chinese mandarin occasionally grew something on his chin as a token of dignity, but it was not a beard, and the Chinese women deformed their faces to express their masculinity unless they were as poor they had to work. The Japanese make does not run to whiskers, and the Japanese women is subjective.

The Roman and Greek men were clean shaven in their greatest days. The Greek did not concede that women were people. The Roman sometimes had his doubts. The conquering type of Roman was clean shaven, Caesar and Augustus. The later emperors, when bad news frequently came from the front and at last was heard in Rome, wore beards.

Empire builders have been clean shaven. Alexander, Nelson, Napoleon. Washington did not grow a beard to win the war. The British empire was built by shaved men, the mustache not counting. King George may be bearded if he cares to, but we doubt that Britain now would stand for whiskers on the prime minister.

Shaving is a sign of self-discipline, sanitation, order, and command. The man who shaved before breakfast and battle has won over the hairy man. The complete formula is shave your face, shorten your sword, and extend your empire.

SUNDAY MOVIES IN EVANSTON.

In Evanston they are considering opening the motion picture houses on Sunday. A vote will be taken April 5th. If a majority of the voters declare against opening them, we are told by President Scott of Northwestern university, the shades of John Evans, founder of the city, and of Frances Willard, its most famous daughter, will approve. It may be so. But unless Dr. Scott has special communication may we suggest that, viewing mundane realities from the other side, it is possible Miss Willard and even John Evans may have reached another conclusion?

If the movies are in themselves not bad on Monday we cannot see why they can be bad on Sunday, except from the strictest Sabbatharian viewpoint. The question of whether or not they should be prohibited on the Sabbath to those citizens and their families who do not find attendance at a moving picture offensive to their conscience ought to be determined on a fair consideration of the social facts, even if the individual's liberty of conscience is ignored.

As to the facts, we doubt that, if the movies are opened, a single individual who does not attend church will not be found in a pew because of a theater to go to. The church is not and ought not to be a substitute for the movies and those who want to go to the movies now can and will find other pastime if the movies remain closed. Will they be the better or will the community be the better for that? We think not. Sunday afternoon is the one time on which parents can go to the movies with their children, except in the evening. We think that is worth considering. We think it also worth considering that since the movies offer a desirable secular pastime there is nothing to be gained by depriving people who seek secular pastime on Sundays of this particular form.

Those who propose to keep the movies closed on Sunday do not wish them closed because they are morally injured by Sunday movies. They are not compelled to attend them. But they hold that it is wrong to go and that therefore others must not be permitted to go.

If Sunday movies created riots or other public ill effects which reached those who demand their prohibition, the case for closing would be clear. But to utilize the force of public law to impose the code of morals or religious convictions or customs of one class of citizens upon others who do not share it seems to us one of the most offensive and demoralizing perversions of popular government. It has been done. It is done. But it is inconsistent with the most precious ideal of American liberty, freedom of conscience, and no real infringement of that principle ever produces anything but discord and even reaction against justifiable restraints.

Today The Tribune prints another map showing what extensions will be made in the Thirty-seventh ward (Austin). That is getting down to the brass tacks in this region. Mayor Dever and the proponents of the ordinance are not dealing in hot air, doctrines, and theories. They are offering improvements and benefits to the people if the people can see the wise course and adopt the ordinance.

APPENDICITIS AND PINWORMS.

Dr. HARRIS AND BROWNS think much of the appendicitis is caused by pinworms.

D. HARRIS AND BROWNS think much of the appendicitis is caused by pinworms. In a large proportion of cases the worms are removed they find other worms or their eggs. In some cases they find eggs rather deep in the tissues of the appendix. They say close examination of the appendix removed during operation is seldom made. If the custom was to examine them as they did, Dr. Harris and Browns think evidence of pinworms frequently would be found.

2. Pinworms get some distance from the large intestine.

3. Treatment for pinworms should sometimes include worm medicine by mouth.

4. And sometimes operation is needed for cure and for worms.

5. Pinworm infestation may be of some consequence.

stomach is another gate arrangement, one function of which is to prevent the small intestine from emptying its contents into the stomach, yet every person who has vomited bile knows that this gate does not always work.

Having wandered around the abdomen considerably, let us end where we began. The lessons of the paper quoted are:

1. Pinworms cause appendicitis often.

2. Pinworms get some distance from the large intestine.

3. Treatment for pinworms should sometimes include worm medicine by mouth.

4. And sometimes operation is needed for cure and for worms.

5. Pinworm infestation may be of some consequence.

BOY HAS CHOREA.

Miss E. P. writes: I was interested in reading your article on rheumatism and heart disease. You speak of chorea as a child's disease. Do adults in the United States ever have it?

I have a nephew of 20 who seems to show symptoms of it. He has been sent to Bermuda and is very much better in general health and probably in his nerves now.

REPLY.

Adults have it occasionally. Children frequently.

Whether in children or adults, it is a direct cousin to rheumatic fever.

WOMAN HAS PARANOIA.

M. S. writes:

I have a sister who is 29 years of age; married, with one lovely child of 6 years.

My sister has those symptoms which you call paranoia. She is very nervous and jealous. She has had fits of hysterics and comes and goes, and I can't see where the insane comes in. Don't you think she is more nervous since, if she is reading anything she does not like, she turns so pale she says it feels as if her blood is leaving her and she feels very cold. She is weak if she stands up very long and gets dizzy, and the least excitement makes her face and neck become scaret, and she gets that drawn feeling between the eyebrows and nose. Her eyes are also weak at times.

Do you think it to be serum injected into her veins? Help her?

REPLY.

There are three grades of paranoia. There is also paranoid personality. The people in some of these grades are not insane. However, all of them are hard to get on with.

GERMAN BOSSES REAL PICKERS OF NEW PRESIDENT Election Scheme Gives Them Control.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, April 1.—A part of an old power says: "When four Germans more in evidence than during the first

The system under which the Ger

Had one candidate received a have been elected president. But as this was impossible the parties looked on the election as a trial of

The candidates were chosen behind tee of each party sitting with mem bers of the Prussian landing.

Now these men, under the thumb of the party leaders, are privileged to wipe the names of candidates of the elec tion slate, make new combinations, and present new candidates.

Out-Tammany Tammany.

The more party members have little say in arranging the details, but the leaders are seeking the strongest possible combinations as the second voting is final, the candidate with the plurality winning.

Believe the cur tains negotiations are going on among the big bosses in a manner which puts Tammany methods in the shade.

The Catholic Center party held out inducements to the Socialists in one and to win the Socialist vote for Wil helm Marx they stabbed them in the back with the other, refusing for a time to carry through their bargain to elect Dr. Braun minister president of Prussia.

When they saw the danger of losing

Socialists they arranged for the resignation of Herr Hoepke-Achoff, who was accused of being a Prussian state and announced themselves behind the Socialist candidate. At the same time they made overtures to the People's party and the nationalists for a united right block.

Sternemann Ditches Jarres.

Gustav Sternemann's party (In dustrialists), which endorsed Karl Jarres in the first poll, is now intriguing against him, trying to put in one of the industrialists' right hand men. Old pledges are forgotten and broken while new ones are made, and a possible com bination which will insure victory on April 26. As far as the Centrists on the right (Gothics) and industrialists are con cerned they are playing both ends against the middle.

A reader who is unfamiliar with Ger man politics might ask: "Where does the Volk," which is the German politi cal equivalent for the "dear public."

The answer is that the people are only permitted to vote.

The indications tonight are that the three candidates which will be offered the people on April 26 will be D. Jarres, right coalition; Dr. Marx, left coalition, and Herr Thaelmann, communists.

The MEN'S DEPARTMENT of the PUBLIC HEALTH INSTITUTE

Will Occupy 4 Floors at 159 North Dearborn St. [Just North of Randolph]

A steadily increasing number of patients has made it necessary for us to provide larger quarters for our Men's Department which, after April 27th, 1925, will be located at 159 North Dearborn Street, just North of Randolph.

Four floors will be occupied and this large space will be completely furnished with the most modern equipment devised for the treatment of "social" diseases.

There will also be a greatly increased number of treatment rooms which will permit of a greater privacy in the reception and treatment of patients.

The Women's Department, 72 East Randolph St. and Health Center No. 1 at 129 East 31st St. will remain where they are.

Effective Treatment Conquers "Social" Diseases

The steady growth of the Public Health Institute is the best proof that could be given of its necessity to victims of venereal infections.

In 1920, the year of its organization, its average daily attendance was 77 and the total number of treatments was 21,747.

In 1924 the average daily attendance was 1011 and the total number of treatments given was 311,433.

During the five years in which it has been in operation, the institute has received more than 60,000 patients and has given more than one million treatments. It has examined and treated one out of every 50 people in the city. It now treats more than 1200 patients daily.

Besides giving its practical help in restoring these thousands to health and efficiency, it has contributed largely to extending information about the serious nature of social diseases; it has supported the preventive educational work of the Social Hygiene Council; and in connection with the University of Wisconsin and Northwestern University, it is doing valuable research work, which has already resulted in a very valuable contribution to the treatment of paresis and certain effects on the spinal cord, offering a renewed hope to many affected.

The Institute was organized by Chicago business men, not for profit, and its income is used in providing proper medical attention, supporting research and educational work and developing the best possible facilities for the treatment of patients.

The fees are small so this service is available to people of even the most limited means. No one is refused treatment because of lack of ready money.

To These Who Need This Help

The Public Health Institute is ready to examine and treat anyone who has become infected or exposed.

Every patient of the Institute receives the individual attention of a trained physician and is given the treatment best adapted to his case and condition.

We say particularly to those who, through a feeling of false modesty or who for any other reason, are hesitating to obtain medical help, that delay in treatment will simply give the disease a stronger hold on the system. The earlier treatment is taken, the sooner will be the recovery and the more certain will be the avoidance of serious effects.

If you have become actively infected or have been exposed to one of these diseases, the Institute offers you the benefit of its modern facilities and the experience of its physicians.

Women and Children

A special department for women and children, with women as physicians and assisting as nurses and attendants, is located at 72 East Randolph Street. Every facility is provided here for effective treatment, and the utmost privacy with the highest degree of comfort is assured. No charge is made for treating the children of parents under treatment.

With such service as this available, no one who needs treatment should delay. "Social" diseases can be cured.

GIBBONS, TUNNEY SIGNED TO GO 15 ROUNDS JUNE 12

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of Tribune boxing representative are: at Philadelphia, Pa.—Mike Ballerino beat Steve [Kid] Sullivan, [10] and Sol [the City] Vincent Payne beat Jim Strangman, [11½]. Jackie Andrews and Jackie Gordon, draw [12]. Harvey Ratzenbeck beat Herman [6]. At Dallas, Tex.—Kid Pachio knocked out Eddie Epstein, [2].

New York, April 1.—Tom Gibbons, boxer and Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, were signed today for a fifteen round decision bout at the Polo Grounds on the night of June 12. Since they will fight at the same time, Tunney's title will not be at stake.

Matchmaker Jimmy De Forest, of the Polo Grounds, A. C., which will promote the fight, said the match would be for the "world's heavyweight championship." Gibbons, he said, had made this stipulation in view of the New York State Athletic commission's action in returning his $2,500 forfeit for a meeting with Dempsey.

Kane accepted this.

"Tom is the logical champion of the world because Jack Dempsey refused to meet him after he had challenged," said Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, who with Billy Gibson, Tunney's representative, signed the articles for the bout. "Tom will defend his title against all comers. Dempsey, we believe, has retired or will retire."

Gibson asserted Tunney had "just as much right to claim the heavyweight title as Gibbons," and that he contested Tom's claim.

"If there is going to be a scramble for the heavyweight title, we will fight Gibbons for it, and will defend it against anybody else, or fight Jack Dempsey to prove our claim," he said.

Boat Up to Commission.

The match is subject to the approval of the New York State Athletic commission, which recently rejected Dempsey on the ineligible list. In this state, for his failure to answer satisfactorily the commission's demand that he fight Harry Wills.

DeForest, who said Gibbons would receive 30 per cent of the gate receipts and Tunney 20 per cent, asserted the seating capacity of the Polo Grounds would be increased to 100,000 for the fight. The date, June 12, he added, was subject to the approval of the athletic commission.

The articles of agreement provide each boxer must post a forfeit of $10,000 for his appearance in the ring and each must refuse offers for bouts from now until June 24. Tunney and Gibbons must go through the last three weeks of their training camp in New York or vicinity.

"IT'S FUNNY," SAYS JACK

Los Angeles, Cal., April 1.—The coming bout between Tommy Gibbons and Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship of the world was described here late today by Jack Dempsey as a laughing proposition.

As he prepared to enter the ring to do a few rounds of exhibition boxing and wrestling at a naval field meet the champion scoffed at Gibbons' claim to the title.

"The New York state athletic commission can do whatever it wishes in New York, but there are other states in which to fight," the title holder commented.

Dempsey reiterated his previous denial of any intention of retiring.

ILLINOIS BOXING BILL APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

Springfield, Ill., April 1.—By Association Press recommendation that it pass the Green bill to legal ten round bouts in Illinois was provided for a state boxing commission to have charge of the sport was made to the house today by the license and mineral committee.

Green said he is certain the bill will pass in the house but is not so sure about the senate. The measure has the support of the American Legion, he said.

Harrison High to Stage Swimming Meet Saturday

Harrison High Letter club will stage its first annual invitation swimming meet Saturday afternoon at the Harrison tank. Each city league school is invited to enter one senior and one junior each to compete in the following events: 100 yard crawl, 4 compulsory dives, 40 yard breast stroke, 40 yard crawl, 3 optional dives, and 40 yard back stroke. Several swimmers from the C. A. A. will appear in exhibitions.

In Motordom By J. L. JENKINS

CHICAGO'S automobile row buzzed yesterday with comment on the long anticipated bill to legal ten round bouts in Illinois. The committee concerning the next step in the big motor merger and company consolidations indicated by industrial conditions.

Possibility of an early combination of the two big companies has been the rumor given most attention by old timers, who believe that the biggest auto manufacturers are certain to merge. There is another concern spoken of in the motor speculation despite repeated denial by company executives.

Charles M. Schwab, who became a man of wealth only a few years ago with his control of U. S. Steel, estimates that no more than twelve big companies will be surviving in the next few years, and that less than twenty more of car will man be on the market. The last major merger was a dozen of the strongest companies whose tremendous production capacities enabled competition among motor manufacturers.

Car manufacturers feel that competition among them is greater than it is today and predict that any further price cuts in almost any price field may be local to a number of smaller companies.

WEEKLY BOXING, PLAN OF LOCAL PROMOTERS

BY WALTER ECKERSALL

Philadelphia, Pa., April 1.—[Special.]—A crowd of 4,000 frantic boxing fans hopped a new 130 pound ring champion of the world here tonight when Mike Ballerino, sturdy little Brooklyn Italian, pounded his way to a decision over Steve [Kid] Sullivan, Brooklyn Italian, who has held the title over the past year, according to those interested in the sport.

Slashing and pounding his way through ten rounds of spectacular fighting, Ballerino overwhelmed Sullivan, and, winning every one of the ten rounds, earned a clear title to the decision of Judges Jack Koford and John Stevens and Referee Frank [Pop] O'Brien.

Plan Weekly Shows.

George Orwego, who has conducted boxing shows in East Chicago for three years, will be a member of the club which will stage bouts in the open air in the baseball park. Eddie Long, who has made matches for recent indoor shows, will assist in the match-making, while the other members of the club will be announced in a few days.

It is the intention of promoters in both towns to run on alternate weeks, making four shows a month.

May Stop on Way West.

Boxers will be passing through Chicago all summer on their way to California and local promoters believe it will not be a hard matter to persuade the majority to stop off in either Aurora or East Chicago for bouts.

Eddie Anderson, the Moline handweaver, who has won seventeen fights since he placed himself under the management of Eddie Long, has been matched to meet George Orwego in New York on April 13. Graham is the boxer from the Midwest, and the other from the East. The other boxers Peter Sanguinetti, the Filipino, and Sanger of Milwaukee, about a month ago.

Waller Wins Record

The crowd stormed the ring when the final blow of the bout ended hostilities, and joyously mobbed the new champion when the decision was announced.

New and Powerful Factor in the Oil Burner Industry

The Silent Automatic Burner Corporation announces its new Silent Automatic Burner.

Responsible and competent judges predict that it will profoundly affect the entire trend of oil burner development.

It introduces and establishes entirely new standards of heating efficiency, economy and operating simplicity.

In addition to its operating and mechanical superiorities, it possesses price advantages that give it a tremendous consumer preference.

The Silent Automatic Burner will be marketed on an aggressive basis—to take full advantage of all its opportunities.

This naturally creates opportunities never before offered in this business.

They Were Sisters, but There Their Likeness Stopped
BY DORIS BLAKE.

Let me pass on for your review two pictures from a family album Steve has just submitted me. Write your own head. Supply your own captions. There's no prize award—unless perhaps you draw one yourself from the family photographs.

Steve, by the way, is the baby brother of the two leading women presented, though he protests he is an old man of 25, seriously thinking of committing matrimony in an early June. As investigator by occupation, he's just been looking around and observing houses in a matrimonial sort of way.

Molly, his oldest sister, has been married ten years. She has five hinky "kids," four boys and one girl. They're a lot of work, Molly tells him. They track in the house both mud and snow. They tear their clothes, wear holes in their stockings. They create large grocery bills but no doctor's bills. They have their spats. They help each other and they are never lonesome. Every day about 4 p.m. Molly hears this: "Hey, mom, where's the jam?" from her own, three, and more than likely three or four more that don't belong to her.

Edith, his other sister, is married eleven years. Didn't want a family until they had a home all paid for, a prosperous business and everything lovely for the one baby. Now she has the home, the business but no baby. She feels sorry for Molly with all that brood of hers. Molly says she could weep buckets over Edie's beautiful tiled kitchen and not a single little shaver to bawl out: "Hey, mom, where's the jam?" And Steve adds: "No jam in sight, and everything so darned correct and grand throughout the house you'd pity the kid if it did come."

"When I go to Molly's she grabs me in her arms and hugs me as if I were one of her own kids, and before I know it she has me acting like one of them."

"When I go to Edie's and attempt to kiss her she protests I'll muss her marcel or ruin her massage or something. I'm scared to stretch out completely, for my mind tells me it might ruin the lines of the swell Italian trappings in her darned uncomfortable old joint."

"Women are different," muses Steve. "A fellow doesn't notice it so much until he gets to thinking about marrying."

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Friends Are Right.

Dear Miss Blake: Am much in love with a young man two years my senior. Have been out with him several times and we always got along finely.

Once he invited me to a dance, and he simply ignored me. I cannot imagine what can be wrong, for he does not call me up any more, either. I certainly want to find out, but am too hurt to speak to him when I see him, so have decided to write to him, asking what the trouble is. My friends tell me it would be very foolish of me to do so, for that would show too plainly I care for him. Kindly advise me as to whether I should write or wait until that sure diagnosis comes from that talk to him.

I think your friends are right I must write, but not to write to him. Dot. Had you not toward him in a manner to deserve being cut or ignored, and so decidedly, I am sure you would remember it. I know it is quite a shock to receive such treatment from one you considered a friend, but if I were you I should try not to think anything more about it, dear.

Reason Is Out.

Dear Miss Blake: I have known a boy friend since I went to school, and I love him very much, and he loves me. I am 20 and he is 19. My mother and father object to my going out with him. What would you advise me to do?

"B. D."

If your mother and father have a good reason for their objection to this young man, I should listen to them, dear, but if you feel they are unfair, try to show them wherein they are wrong and point out to them his good qualities. If you reason for feeling you do about him, I am sure they will listen to reason, dear, for, after all, they wish to see you happy.

How to eat a Steak/ and why.

TAKE a great big, juicy bite of steak, plain—and then a second bite with Golden's mustard spread on top.

That's all you'll ever need to convince you how much Golden's adds to the taste of hot meats. Try it with roast beef, corned beef, pork chops. You have a revelation in store for you!

There's a bottle of Golden's on your kitchen shelf. Every housewife has it. Bring it to the table tonight, and put it beside your pepper and salt. You'll never start a meal without it again.

Cooked Strawberry Mousse.

At this season of the year even a strawberry shortcake may be much pleasanter made or cooked than of raw berries, and if cooked gently and combined well with whipped cream, the flavor is about the same as that of uncooked strawberries, and especially better than the flavor of raw ones. For individual service pastry patties the cooked berries and whipped cream make a pleasurable dessert.

Cooked berries, freshly cooked ones, may be hardly distinguishable from uncooked strawberries. This is true when the ice is a strawberry mousse made as follows:

One and a half cups of strawberries, one-half cup sugar or more if to taste, one-tablespoon of water, one egg white, one-half cup of cream. Wash the strawberries first and drain before hulling them. Put them in a flat bottomed aluminum kettle either with a tablespoon of water or with two or three tablespoons of sugar, and gently cook until the juice is freed from the berries.

Strain out the berries and get what should be a half cup of thick strawberry juice. Add to this the half cup of sugar, stir until it is well dissolved, cook five minutes, skimming it carefully if necessary, and pour it over the stiffly beaten egg white, beating constantly and until it cools. Then fold into it thoroughly the half cup of cream, getting in all about three cups of fluffy mix. Put this into a tin with a tight cover, with buttered paper under the cover, twist it around a few minutes in half ice and salt, then pack for two hours.

Force of Habit.

It is the custom in our church to sing three hallelujahs at the concusion of the reading of the scripture lesson. During the Lenten season these are omitted.

It was the morning of the first

Sunday in Lent and the church was comfortably filled. Whether it was due to habit or inattention, I know not, but the fact remains, when the minister finished reading the lesson

I rose from my seat in the choir loft and mid an ominous silence fairly shrieked "Hallelujah!" to the dumfounded congregation.

Needless to say my mind has never strayed far from the service since.

M. W.

Created a Stir.

I took my little sister with me to vaudeville one day. While removing my coat I failed to notice Edna had laid her balloon on my seat.

As I sat down there was a loud report. I rose as if shot and felt all eyes turning in my direction. Those sitting near us, who knew what had made the report, began to titter.

Seizing the innocent culprit by the hand, I beat a most hasty and implo-itious retreat.

After practically a continuous downturn of two weeks duration yesterday's hog market reacted bulk of suitable offerings selling 15@25c higher, with 16@25c lb averages of $1.25 and the general average price at $1.00 against $1.25 Tuesday, $1.55 a week ago and $1.40 two weeks ago, high day of the year. Shippers and small packers were but buyers, while Armand, Swift and Wilson were practically out of the market their bids being no higher than those of the packers. Receipts were small totaling a short 11,000, with quality fairly good.

With recent declines in beef steers fully recovered and quality showing a decided improvement, bulk of cattle prices yesterday were highest of the year. Advances of 25c were general, the day's top jumping to $1.80 highest since January. Choice 1.14 lb yearlings topped, while best 1.14 lb steers reached $1.75. Medium beef steers sold above $1.00 cts. at any time in the year. Butcher stock ruled firmly to 25c. Extra better grades showing the advance. Choice 1.75 lb heifers at $1.50, equaled the highest of the year in this branch. Best calves held firm, while others weakened.

Lamb Prices Reset.

Improved shipping demand, together with slight decrease in supplies of medium and weighty lambs, boosted values largely 25c and in spots as much as 50c during active mid-week buying. Top 7.5 lb fed wethers reached $18.10, with bulk of weanlings at $11.75@12.75. Fancy 7.75 lb shorn lambs topped at $12.00. Good 5 lb lambs, $11.00; 7.5 lb averages, $11.40, and 11.5 lb heavy, $10.50. Avg sheep held steady. Two year old Mexican wool wethers, $10.75. Shearing lambs weak.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep, against 10,872 cattle, 25,282 hogs and 5,757 sheep, the corresponding Thursday a year ago.

OFFER EXCHANGE FOR SECURITIES OF WILSON & CO.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The reorganization plan for Wilson & Co., packers, was announced last night. The plan contemplates a new corporation to take over the old company, which is now in receivership. This will require a sale under a federal court order. It is estimated this procedure and termination of the receivership will be accomplished in three or four months.

The new corporation will be a $115,000,000 concern, which represents a scale-down of about $20,000,000, including elimination of nearly $12,000,000 representing good will, etc. Eventually there may be a further scale-down as against plant, value, equipment, and investments total.

value, equipment, and investments total.

Details of New Plan.

Under the reorganization plan the exchange of securities between the new and old companies will be as follows:

1. The $22,856,150 of new mortgage 6 per cent bonds due 1941, will remain undistributed, as will also accounts payable, notes, bonds, and bank debts of subsidiary companies. These obligations aggregate $40,971,833.

2. Holders of the $13,871,150 of 6 per cent bonds and the $30,070,080 7½ per cent bonds will receive six shares of 7½ per cent preferred stock, seven and one-half shares of common stock. A stock entitled to 25 annual dividends, and four and three-tenths shares of common stock, all for each $1,000 of bonds.

3. Holders of the old $10,000,000 preferred stock will receive one and one-half shares of new common stock for one old share.

4. Holders of the old common stock will receive four-tenths of a share of the new common for one old share. There are 262,000 shares of old nonpar common stock carried at $30,000,000.

The bank creditors with claims of $22,464,881 will receive a cash payment of 50 per cent. For the balance they will receive six shares of preferred, seven and one-half shares of class A, and four and three-tenths shares of common stock for each $1,000 of debt.

List Amounts of Dividends.

Under this plan of exchange there will be 22,767 shares of preferred stock, carried at $100 a share; 385,959 shares of nonpar class A stock, carried at $75 a share; and 439,815 shares of nonpar common stock, carried at about $12 a share.

The preferred stock will be entitled to 20 per cent cumulative dividends after two years and to 50 per cent at $100 a share. A class A stock will be entitled to 55 cumulative after five years, preferred as to assets to $75 in liquidation and redeemable at that price, and convertible into common stock shares for share. All three classes of stock have equal voting power.

The plan involves no assessments on any of the security holders and creditors, and the only new financing provided is the sale of $2,500,000 five year 6 per cent notes.

Gross Earnings $8,955,150.

Gross earnings of Wilson & Co. for 1924 were $24,852,420. On the basis of the reorganization plan, these earnings would produce $4,275,777 after depreciation, interest, and taxes. After dividends on the new preferred and class A stocks, there would be a balance of $497,812, equivalent to $1.12 a share on the new common stock outstanding.

The balance sheet of the new company would be as follows, compared with a balance sheet of Wilson & Co. on Aug.

STEADY BUYING PUTS ALL GRAINS ON HIGHER LEVEL

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain markets averaged higher, and while there were numerous price reactions at times due to aggressive selling, each break brought in renewed buying and wheat closed around the best price of the day on the May, while the deferred deliveries were slightly easier due to reports of rains in Kansas. The finish found prices 1 1/4¢ higher with May leading. Oats gained 1 1/4¢ and rye 2 1/2¢ to 3 1/4¢.

A tightening in the cash wheat situation, with premium on Buffalo to higher levels, had considerable influence on the May, which went to around 11 1/4¢ over the July, gaining 1¢ on the latter delivery for the day. There was no material pressure on the May throughout the day, and with reports of a better milling demand and light offerings it was easily influenced. Numerous reports of rain came from Kansas toward the close, which led to selling of the July, and the forecast was for generally unsettled weather over the greater part of the grain belt.

Milling Demand Better.

Kansas City reported sales of 175,000 bu cash wheat to mills, while local sales were 150,000 bu and a bid of 12¢ over May, or 2 1/2¢ above the recent basis, was made for No. 8 red on spot. There is little available hard or red winter here or in the southwest for delivery on May contracts, and it is estimated that outside of the durum wheat there is only about 5,000,000 bu spring wheat at Duluth not owned by mills. A little wheat has been sold from Duluth of late for shipment. Export demand was fair, with 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 bu, mostly Manitoba, having been reported.

Cereals Ready for Sale.

Private crop reports of wheat from the west generally bullish. Snow estimated condition for the country at 75 and Murray made it 77, compared with 81 in December and 81 last year. The latter estimated the abandoned acreage at 7,518,000 and the crop at $10,000,000 bu, while snow, on the basis of average abandonment, made it $8,000,000 bu, against $80,000,000 bu harvested last year. Should rains be general in Kansas it is expected that material improvement will be reported in many sections.

Corn market was unsettled, with trade largely of a local character, the action of wheat being the basis. The best covering was early, when the best price of the day was made, and later profit taking caused a reaction. Eastern demand was the best in some time, with sales of 185,000 bu. Oats were rather dull, but firmer, with shipping sales of 175,000 bu.

Around 1,000,000 bu cash rye has been sold for shipment from Duluth of late and not previously reported. This, with claims from the seaboard of 500,000 bu sold for export, brought in fair buying of futures and caused a sharp advance. Strength in hogs and grains, with an

Another attempt is to be made to liberate William D. Hopkins from the county jail on bond. No action will be made to Judge W. J. Broderick despite the ruling of the court by Chief Justice Jacob H. Howard, which for the second time has denied the motion for the release of Shepherd on the "million dollar murder" charge concerning the death of William McClinton.

Judge Hopkins' exact ruling yesterday was a denial of a motion by his defense attorney to reconvene his trial. The defense will be held in the courtroom of the State's Attorney, W. W. O'Brien. The defense attorney, W. W. O'Brien, has been engaged in personal debate over the trial and upon the court's decision he will go to the Supreme Court.

Attorney George E. Crowe and Attorney W. W. O'Brien, both of Chicago, are engaged in personal debate over the trial and upon the court's decision he will go to the Supreme Court.
